Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 09 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A few early showers. Rain spreading east this afternoon.

Today:
Bright start with sunny spells and, especially in west, occasional showers. However increasing cloud and strengthening southerly winds bring outbreaks of rain to the Western Isles early this afternoon and the rest of the area by evening. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud and rain clear east this evening with clear spells and blustery showers following. Drier in the east where a touch of frost is possible in sheltered eastern parts. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Friday:
Blustery, occasionally heavy and perhaps thundery, showers continue, these most frequent across northern and western parts with the east seeing more in the way of sunny spells. Westerly winds easing. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Morning rain then showers on Saturday with coastal gales possible. Further showers Sunday then rain later clearing to showers again on Monday. Potentially very windy early Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.